

Vice-Admiral Weymss Heralded as Fighter.

Intense Offensive Against the German Undersea Ships is Expected to Follow Change in Command.

BY FRANK W. GETTY.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] LONDON, Dec. 27.—The British navy, from first commander to cabin boy, is now looking forward to 1918 as a year of action, under the leadership of the aggressive Vice-Admiral Weymss. Unquestionably it will be a year of greater offensive activity than any preceding. Particularly against the submarines.

The greater part of the navy is confident, in fact, that when the spring brings increased aggressiveness on the part of the U-boats it will also set the stage for the final step in wiping the sea of these pests.

Meanwhile, those who do not know the Admiralty's secret for destroying submarines (all I know is that it is a combination of many different devices and practices) only see that the speed of the ships of shipping remains high, in spite of the short days and the limiting of the U-boats' daily period of activity.

However, it is encouraging to know that this month's batch of submarine already far exceeds that of November, with another week's figures yet to come. Between 110 and 115 would not be a bad guess for the total number of submarines captured or sunk already.

NEW DRIVE ON U-BOATS.

It is against the submarines, of course, that this coming naval offensive will be particularly directed. Naturally, it is still impossible to get at the German high seas fleet, though it can be done from the air. Convoy will receive greater pro-

"THE TIMES" DAY BY DAY CIRCULATION GAINS

There is no other city on the Pacific Coast in which one newspaper so completely outclasses its contemporaries in the quality and quantity of its home-delivered circulation as does The Times in Los Angeles.

The Times is not turned to by subscribers for momentary amusement, but is read regularly and believably by the rank and file of our citizenry. Its constantly increasing circulation is due to the fact that it is as essential to readers who desire to keep authoritatively posted on the world's affairs as it is to advertisers who desire maximum publicity at minimum cost.

The following figures show The Times' increase in circulation day by day for the week ending December 24, 1917, over the corresponding week in 1916:

December 21, 1916..	$1,741	December 20, 1917..	72,762	11,021
December 22, 1916..	$6,982	December 21, 1917..	72,078	11,096
December 23, 1916..	$6,825	December 22, 1917..	72,441	11,606
December 24, 1916..	$6,720	December 23, 1917..	72,100	11,276
December 25, 1916..	$6,590	December 24, 1917..	72,241	11,234
December 26, 1916..	$6,164	December 25, 1917..	70,675	9,511

THE KNITTING ISSUE.

Red Cross Woman Director Ridicules Prof. Weismiller's Warning.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.) CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—The new 1918 style in maladies for women called "knitting nerves," will not be accepted in Chicago, it was said today by women in position to know.

The style originated in New York, where Dr. Louis R. Weismiller, of the Y.M.C.A., was quoted as having discovered the disease, due to overwork on the knitting.

Dr. Julia Styrn said: "Nonsense. We give certain cases knitting in the hospitals to quiet their nerves."

Miss Irma Taft, director of women's work, central division, Red Cross, remarked: "Our women are too busy to get 'knitting nerves.' Most of them are now so proficient they can read and knit at the same time. That doesn't look like nerves."

Other women in the world talked in similar strain from which it appears that the 1917 style of nerves would remain unchanged in this section next year, although if the public, which is still taunting against the Admiralty over the sinking of the convoy in the North Sea last week, only realized the facts today, he would see the reason is not the German navy, but the ocean itself.

Critics of the navy who point to Britain's supremacy on the seas as an argument that such raids should not be permitted, fail to realize this.

The length of Haig's line is roughly 150 miles. Admiral Beatty's line is more than a thousand miles in length. When the Germans, under cover of night and darkness, sneak from a nest and dash off in a quick dash, get into a convoy and return safely, everyone jumps at the Admiralty. But when the Germans, on a dark night, on some British front-line trench, Haig's immediate dismissal is not demanded nor is an inquiry called for.

It is not true to say that it is impossible for males to prevent such a move, if the coast guard is not there to help. The British are numerically superior to the enemy. So he could prevent raiding, but naturally such is not the mode of warfare.

The same thing applies to the navy. Beatty could call upon his reserves, in the shape of the grand fleet, and never lose a convoy, but certainly no one would suggest that it is a move that he considered such a move, much less the head of the navy.

TRADE BALANCES SHOW FLUCTUATIONS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Sugar exports from the United States last October showed an increase of nearly 10,000,000 pounds over the same month last year. France and England received the bulk of the shipments of 113,241,000 pounds, the former getting 73,000,000 pounds to relieve a virtual famine there, and the latter 22,000,000 pounds.

Six million pounds went to The Netherlands, 5,000,000 to Argentina and almost as large a quantity to Mexico. While gold exports for the month showed a considerable decrease as compared with the same month in 1916, a new movement of the metal this year was the result of an analysis of October exports made public today by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Peru received $2,823,372 thousand, while gold exports for the first ten months of 1916, the increase being in payment for growing purchases of copper by this country.

Trade with Mexico took virtually all the remainder of the country's $11,154,074 gold exports in October. In ten months Japan received $15,900,000, compared with $15,843,000. The period of 1916: Spain, $102,000,000, compared with $9,701,000, and Mexico, $7,000,000, compared with less than $1,000,000.

The Allies' SACCHARINE EXPERTS EXPLAIN THEIR NEEDS TO HOOVER.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Sir Joseph White Todd and J. Ramsay Drake, allied representatives on the international sugar committee, which has just worked out a plan for dividing next year's Cuban crop among the Allies and the United States, discussed the sugar situation with the head of Food Administrator Hoover. They were en route from New York to Cuba.

The Allies, they said, must again depend upon the United States for their supplies, in view of shipping makes it impossible to obtain sugar from the East. Plans are for the Allies to go through the year on half their normal consumption, as they resume their hold on the market in the last few months only through the sacrifice of the American people.

Control of available supplies by the international committee, they said, will keep down prices to consumers everywhere, and will guarantee an equitable distribution among the nations fighting Germany.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—According to a diplomatic dispatch received here today, the German-Austrian Socialists of Austria have met and passed resolutions favoring the transformation of Austria into a state of federated nationalities. The new project is based on the abolition of the seventeen provinces of crown lands and the substitution therefore of district autonomy. There is a vague reference to the dual system which the resolutions declare must not be allowed to stand in the way of reform.

The proposal is said to be a serious effort, based on the profound studies of Karl Renner and Otto

WOODEN SHIP IDEA FAILURE.

Former Naval Constructor Denounces Plan.

Timber Shortage is Alleged by Expert Witness.

Senate Committee Studies Builders' Profits.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The Shipping Board's wooden ship programme was flatly called a failure today by F. A. Bowles, former naval constructor and now assistant to the general manager of the board's Emergency Fleet Corporation. Summoned before the Senate Commerce Committee to shed light upon the wooden ship building programme, Mr. Bowles said the entire construction venture was a mistake and never should have been attempted.

The programme cannot be completed on time, he told the committee, because the country cannot furnish enough ship timber, the 450 vessels now being called for more lumber than is required to build the entire output of southern pine producers for a year. Most of them were placed in the East and South and specify pine timbers.

The wooden programme, said Admiral Bowles, was launched on a scale entirely beyond the country's productive ability. Mills in the South have not delivered lumber since the first of the year, and as fast as was necessary and western mills have been almost as slow. Even if the timber had been plentiful wooden ships could not have been built as fast as steel.

Mr. Bowles took entire responsibility for changes in timber specifications and changes in the design of wooden ships. He said the war makes the vessels more seaworthy and had brought about little actual delay in construction.

Ninety per cent. of the labor put into the construction of wooden vessels, he declared, could be used in steel shipyards.

"In justice to myself," he added, "I want to say that had nothing to do with letting the wooden ships contract."

Members of the committee displayed their best efforts to get the information they wanted, but the admiral indicated that they thought too high a profit was allowed the builders.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 27.—The percentage of men rejected by the National Army for physical reasons ranges from 30 to 70 per cent, and is higher than that of any other nation, according to a report at the opening session of the American Economic Association here.

New York Times: The gain in efficiency should be very great, notably in two particulars: routing and the use of terminals. For the time being all the railways will be joined in one system. There will be no rivalry; no private interest to be consulted; usage will be disregarded; the quickest way to get the greatest volume of business done will be chosen.

New York World: The roads will not only give a more unified and therefore a more efficient conduct than has been possible under the railroads' was board, whose work greatly praised by the President, but they will also make an equitable distribution of the advantages of "unified control."

The resources of the United States Treasury are thus put behind every man in the country.

There is the new assurance of a new day in the fair dealing of the roads, as well as efficient dealings by the roads as common carriers.

INSANITY PLEA
KEYES'S DEFENSE

Man Charged with Revolting Crime Given Hearing.

Held for Trial Without Bail and Committed to Jail.

Attorneys will Attempt to Repudiate Confession.

SANTA ANA, Dec. 27.— That insanity will be the defense on which the attorneys for Edward S. Keyes, charged with the murder of Leonard Horwick, whose head was severed at the neck in his body, was indicated today at the trial without bail. The grand jury, which had been impaneled at 10 a.m., voted to hold him for trial without bail.

The defense, however, was committed to the coroner's inquest.

The courtroom was crowded to capacity and Keyes was brought in accompanied by half a dozen deputy sheriffs who guarded the prisoner rapidly. Violence was feared. No demonstration was made and the hearing proceeded quietly.

Sheriff Jackson was the first witness. He gave in detail the alleged confession of Keyes. Coroner Winkworth described the conditions in which he found the body and Dr. J. L. Clark, city health officer, gave an account of what the post mortem examination revealed.

Attorney Carpenter appealed for Keyes and made a statement to the court to the effect that he believed the defendant innocent. He contended that the boy could not have been dead and further that the alleged confession was only the talk of a half-witted person who made statements at the suggestion of the officers and who was not responsible mentally.

The coroner's jury was sworn to mark on the boy's throat to indicate that he had been choked to death. Keyes had said that he had been beaten and forced to drink before he attacked him criminally. Dr. Clark said there was no sign of liquor in the boy's stomach. Attorney Carpenter declared that Keyes' statement was true and he had been left several hours after he choked him to death could not have been true, because Dr. Clark testified that there was little coagulated blood in the stomach.

While Deputy District Attorney A. E. Koensel and Deputy District Attorney W. F. Merton offered no rebuttal to Attorney Anderson's case of proving Keyes' alleged confession to have been merely the outpouring of the mind of a half-witted man, it was held that the main points in Sheriff Jackson's testimony.

One point was that a boy and a half search for the boy's body was fruitless. After talking with Keyes, the Sheriff said he had been under a railroad bridge where he saw Keyes told him the head was and there found the head. The other point is that the ashes in a stove at the home of Leonard Horwick had been found. Jackson testified that he never said that he burned the boy's ashes in that stove.

Justice Cox ordered Keyes held for trial without bail.

OUR SOUTH FOR BANDIT DISGUISED AS SOLDIER.

Posed Bank Robber Gets Through Tight-drawn Police Net After Sensational Escape.

GENERAL alarm was sent out over Southern California last night to locate an un-suspected, now disguised as a soldier, and believed by the police to be the man who looted the Commercial Savings Bank.

At the former residence, December 27, of Mrs. Maude Kafitz, widow of Harry McCuller, the police stopped several times and were detailed to run him down on Placencia and Pico streets.

The police said the getaway car was one of the most speceover attempted in this

In another end of the garage was Harry McCuller, the owner.

While the officer's back was turned, the bandit thrust a revolver under his ear and told him to hold up his hands. "You must get away and tell your wife if you try to run," he said.

The officer realized that his prisoner had the drop on him, without protest did as directed. Then the bandit disarmed him, took his revolver, and Wells Bennett and C. C. Cooper, employees of the garage, to enter the office. When they did so he locked the door with the admonition that if any of the three tried to get out he would shoot.

The police said the getaway car was one of the most spec-

The bandit, who had been captured, was taken to the police station by the bandit, but later learned that he had himself as a soldier soon as he was seized from the motorcycle.

"Now take me to Nubia and Main Street in Harry's office," he said to Mr. McCuller. The latter said no hesitate. At the destination, the bandit ordered Mr. McCuller to "beat it" back to the garage, which he started to do. Before departing the bandit told Officer Blaylock's name and address, who was exhorting him to stop. The answer was a telephone he informed the police of what had happened, and a few moments later the width of the city was covered with deputy sheriffs and officers from Central Police Station.

The Broken in Fight for Venice Trusteeship—Decision Today.

Judge Taft reversed himself yesterday in the case of the contested election for Trustees of Venice. The result of the judicial count of the ballots was a tie. The official count showed that Edward S. Hill had a majority over John G. Harrah.

Yesterday Judge Taft said he found his ruling in the case of one vote cast for Mr. Hill was erroneous. With this cast out, Mr. Harrah has a majority of one vote. The court continued the case until the presentation of law points on the question.

The contest was brought by Thomas Schofield against Mr. Hill, claiming that Mr. Harrah received more votes than Mr. Hill did. Votes were cast out on the basis of the recall of the former Trustee as well as votes for Mr. Hill at the election. Under the law their votes were void.

The action of the Los Angeles Board of Education in abolishing the study of the German language in the schools here is being followed by similar action in several cities in this and other States and by contemplated action to the same end in other municipalities over the country.

Following the lead of Los Angeles, Monrovia's school trustees yesterday declared that the present high school course in German will be dropped from the curriculum, and that teaching of the language will be abandoned until after the war.

It is probable that all the German text-books and other literature in the Teutonic tongue now on the shelves of the Monrovia public library will be withdrawn from the public's use, though official action will not be taken by the library board until its meeting next week.

The Long Beach Board of Education also voted to drop the German language from the curriculum, and the action will take effect after the war.

A meeting of the trustees was held last night, but as Sup't W. E. McCallum III was unable to attend, action was deferred till next Tuesday, when the matter will be made the foremost topic.

Detractors of the German language will also consider adjustment of salaries of teachers and wages of other employees, and by similar action in several cities in this and other States and by contemplated action to the same end in other municipalities over the country.

HOLIDAYS WHET ZEAL OF CAMP KEARNY SOLDIERS.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

CAMP KEARNY, Dec. 27.—With all hands present or accounted for, military business was resumed at the old stand today. Inspection was in order and when unit after unit was lined up on the parade field, while the infantrymen were given the double "O" on the inspection grounds.

The boat of directors yesterday adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, it has for some time been the unanimous opinion of this board of directors that it would be greatly in the interest of the club to have able-bodied male employees of this club would choose those pursuits wherein only men can be used, and whereas this board has hitherto refrained from taking any steps in this direction, this board, in view of the circumstances, does hereby resolve that the men walking on strike be reinstated.

As a matter of fact, the Jonathan Club, which is the largest club in the city, has been considering for some time the employment of women in the place of men, so that the men might be free for war duties.

Therefore, it is resolved that the employment of women in the place of men, so that the men might be free for war duties.

OXNARD, Dec. 27.—Results of the annual election of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce held yesterday at which time twenty-four persons were selected to serve the year of 1918, from a field of fifty names, were announced tonight as follows:

Four members of Congress have enlisted in the American army; Augustus F. Gardner of Massachusetts, Victor Heintz of Ohio, Frank La Guardia of New York, and Robert C. Johnson of South Dakota. And it may be a coincidence, but every mother's son of them is a Negro. G. T. McRae, W. H. White, Dr. E. Walker, E. E. Buffum, W. E. Walker, R. F. Tucker, John Munhoff.

There should be a strict investigation of the sanitary conditions of army cantonments and of the rate of sickness and death. It is due to the mothers of America in view of mighty sacrifices. The government has taken every precaution. He who somebody's son derelict? Let me know about it.

The longer the investigation into the conduct of the war proceeds the more it is apparent that there should be some centralized organization of not to exceed five thousand men connected with the war effort. The food questionnaire has reached Los Angeles. Take as inventory of the stuff you have left in the closer—provided you are lucky enough to have anything.

There is a janitor of an Old street apartment-house who is trying the experiment of heating the hall during these nights and mornings with the sun of the day before, and won't work.

A lively discussion is now going on as to the identity of the first American who went over in No Man's Land. It is not important. Whoever he was, will have a lot of successors later on.

If a peace is patched up between Germany and Russia it will be possible for the Germans to release thousands of troops from service on the western front in France. From that standpoint, the situation is a dangerous one for the Allies.

OXNARD CHAMBER ELECTS DIRECTORS.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
OXNARD, Dec. 27.—Results of the annual election of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce held yesterday at which time twenty-four persons were selected to serve the year of 1918, from a field of fifty names, were announced tonight as follows:

Four members of Congress have enlisted in the American army; Augustus F. Gardner of Massachusetts, Victor Heintz of Ohio, Frank La Guardia of New York, and Robert C. Johnson of South Dakota. And it may be a coincidence, but every mother's son of them is a Negro. G. T. McRae, W. H. White, Dr. E. Walker, E. E. Buffum, W. E. Walker, R. F. Tucker, John Munhoff.

There should be a strict investigation of the sanitary conditions of army cantonments and of the rate of sickness and death. It is due to the mothers of America in view of mighty sacrifices. The government has taken every precaution. He who somebody's son derelict? Let me know about it.

The longer the investigation into the conduct of the war proceeds the more it is apparent that there should be some centralized organization of not to exceed five thousand men connected with the war effort. Mayor Eggers announces that the Center is no place for any persons those who subscribe to the cause of the war, and will be the county and city police office in ferreting out offenders against the espionage laws.

TWO SOLDIERS.
THE YOUNG.

With gallant step and flashing eyes With swelling heart and courage high. He marches gaily down the street To martial music loud and sweet.

All is before him—naught but the road Of deadly wounds from unseen foes. Only the glory of the brave He sees, in flags that proudly wave.

With flushed cheek and smiling smile He waves his farewell, but while A sudden tear, all quickly dried, Shows the warm heart he can't hide.

SWETT "ESCAPE" IS EXPLAINED.

Local Officers Present to Make Arrest, Say New Orleans Authorities.

THE OLD.

Another, bent and old and gray, Watched him bravely march away And down his scarred and wrinkled cheek Unbidden tears slowly crept.

Swiftly the years sweep back, lo! A vision of the long ago, The same great crowd, the tears, the cheers, the air, the face.

Himself so young and brave, One of that noble, gallant throng A rude arm jests him, and then back to today he comes again.

And bravely forcing back the tears, With trembling voice, he dares to cheer, And turns aside to hide his face.

According to the New Orleans authorities, Swett was in the city last night and had been made to leave him.

LAURA ANDERSON POWELL.

And there is Russia, the Judas nations.

"Damn the Germans on the water front; godhead." Admiral Pugnac at Mobile Bay slightly changes.

It is believed that Nevada will elect a Republican successor to late Senator Newlands. Here is his record:

With everybody eating less,

shall hear no more about "he loves a fat man." There will be such "pusion."

"Immoral houses to be abolished in Rock Island, so runs a headline in the telegraph. Yes, that is what they say they are going to do.

Wives of Ancestors whose hands are required to go to the national capital on business need not indulge in no worrying. The town "dry."

It is a question whether the reported decrease in drunkenness caused by the increased price of liquor or the small size of the bottles.

The great indoor sport is saving your income tax, a return of which has to be made between January 1 and March 1. Payments to be made before June 15.

A circus clown has been found murdered in Kansas City, Mo., and when the supply of clowns grows too large. They are almost extinct species.

And there was the old-fashioned woman who used to get rid of clothes by chucking them under the bed. She was the original Mrs. Wiggs of the cabbage patch.

COMMERCIAL
LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.BUSINESS TALKS
TO WOMEN.BY ELLEN LANE SPENCER,
Author of "The Efficient Secretary."Personality Vocational.
There are some vocations that require brilliant, spontaneous reactions; there are some that require steady plugging; and there are other vocations that require only a pleasing personality to put the job across to a brilliant success.

Salesmanship is essentially a personality vocation, yet in the calling no one else, innumerable instances of misguided selection, there is a successful salesman, above all things, it is necessary to impress the public with sincerity and honest intent. This sincere and honest suggestion many things, not the least of which is that the proposition should be sound or it would not be representative of a man of such character, and also honest to do anything that is not reliable in its every detail.

Some salesmen attain a moderate degree of success in the qualities of sincerity and honesty, but it is not the sort that builds for increased success in later years.

The positions that require the salesperson to show that the public and adjust complaints and explain technical seeming irregularities are positions that require personality of plugging kind. The telephone operator, telegrapher, store clerk, all must have a certain cheerfulness of personality in order to put over their jobs in the proper fashion.

And, in any business, though it may not require personality in an exact sense, doesn't the personality of those engaged in it count a great deal? In the end, either he is of a pleasing frame of mind, cheerful manner, polite speech—these assets are often the qualities that form the line of choice between two very similar candidates for success when all other qualities are equal.
